Subject: Invitation to the Conference “Asphalt Rubber – Engineering, Environment and Economy”

Biosafe and Consulpav, are pleased to invite you to register and be present at the Conference “Asphalt Rubber – Engineering, Environment and Economy” to be held October 11th and 12th at the Hotel Solverde (São Félix da Marinha – Oporto, Portugal). We are indeed fortunate that Dr. Kevin E. Trenberth (IPCC), Nobel Peace Prize Recipient (2007), who has developed an outstanding work related to climate change, has agreed to be the keynote speaker. We also have the pleasure of being honored with the presence of several other experts from around the world that will share their knowledge and experiences about the Conference subject.

We look forward to sharing with you two days of highly interesting discussions on each of the asphalt rubber related subjects and to your active participation in the “Questions and Answers” period of each of the presentations.

For more information about the Conference and to process your registration, please visit the site www.betumeborracha.com or contact us at this phone number +351256580600.

Yours sincerely,
Organization,
